THEMS OF BOSSOBIPTION-IN ADVANCE,

EUROPE DRIFTING TOWARD WAR. - The news fraze Europe by the Persia is regarded by the New York Times as of deep signifiwance. It eays, following close in the track of the Austro-Pruseian squadron, which was making its way toward the Baltic, a British frignte, under command of Sir L. McClintock, had set sail, it is said, as the first of a British Sect which will oppose the entranco of the German men-of-war into the Sound. The E. Glish press, almost without exception, is agreed the considerations, not only for the benor but for the material laterests of Engto the Austrian forces, and to prevent any additional pressure being brought to bear mpon Denmark. The step thus tardily taken. or about to be taken (as is alleged), by the British Government, has almost the effect of a elcelaration of war; it is en act of direet heatility toward one of the baligerents, and in thet character it will be hailed with delight by the whole nation, with bot one exception-that exception being the most important that could be named. The Queen no louger takes sides seretly with the German deeps ilers. The most nveterate end as ute of the prime movers in the invesion of Danmark, the Baron Banat, is specially singled out for the hospitalities of the Court at Osborne; while the second son of the Oacen is ordered to Berlin to be the reit of the hospitalities of the Prassian reign, and to accept the questionabl ance by the Queen of the public opinion of the nation has called forth protosts such as have not been heardsioce the commencement of the present reign, and which will assured! hasten a crisis in the relations of the people of Eogland end of the empire, toward the reign ing severeign. Another crisis also appears The Troubles in the Southwest .- Parties residing neer Rolla, says the St. Lonis News. and who have been compelled to leave that locality, furnish us a most deplorable picture of the intestine troubles of that region. There is no safety for life or property, and the old querilla war has degenerated into an Indiscriminate piracy, without regard to political or other epinions. The Union men, incensed at the long continued and oft-repeated pardons of neterious tobbers, have adopted their style of warfare, and take no prisoners. The red inpeism of Washington City is not snited to that locall y. With vigilance-strong cords and short shrifts-it is to he hoped the Union men of that region will soon bring peaco oa MURDER NEAR GOLCONDA.—Christian Herter, reciding about seven miles from Golconda Illinois, was, on the 6th inst, shot dead while at his plough in the field hut a few rods the cliffs near by. Herter was a very quie friendly citizen, not known to have any ene mire, and had been a reside .t of Pope county but a few months. Every eff rt of the antherities to enseaver the assassio has failed, and the motive of the crime remains wrapped in mystery.

The use sandy liant gentleman Lown as 'l'ry to Miles O'Reilly,', whose name es M 'ar Ralpine is as well known in military circles as his nom de plume is to newspaper readers, has been ordered to report for duty to Msjor-General Hunter, with the Army of the Potomuc. Major Halpine gote as a volunteer, having been given a sixty-day furlough on medical certificates, which he begged to have revoked.

LATE SOUTHERN NEWS .- The following extracts from Virginia papers are given by the Washington Chronicle:

(From the Richmond Scutinel, May 11] How goes the War?-The nows of military operations in the various localities of strife is very gratifying and promising. Grant is Agiting very stubboruly, and with a place that is either desperate or audacious. Lee's victories are not decisive, but they all tend to a decience is not. It is impossible that Grant should be not long to keep his men in heart and go up to the fight, or even hold them tothem with a single success. Ilis own course mey be nushaken, and the ruin of his formand which his defeat would entail, my make him pertinaci ne and reckless, but his ne aim to relinquish the ansuccessful fight, Meantime, our proloned, reverend gratitude s due to Afraghty God for the victories which have befiled our domon-postessed loe and our affectionate thanks and hearty applease and congratelations to the thrice gl

[From the Petersiong Express.] An Auspicious Beginning.—We have great cause to be thankful for the auspicious he-gioning which has marked the military operas of the enemy in this section, where our overwholming numbers, and expected by en-compassing us that we would fall an easy prey into their bands. They thought that we were too weak to guard more than one point, but in this, thanks to our vigilant commandor, they have been disapporuted. Wherever they have attempted to approach the city, there they have found the bayonets of the Confederates bristling and ready to receiv them. But, if we were successful yesterday, thall we not be more so to-day? were arriving hourly yesterday, and all through lest night. (From the Richmond Examiner, May 18.1 The Situation —The hattle near Drury's Bluff was imperfectly appreciated in Richmond till yesterday. It was, during the time it lested, one of the most terrific combats that has been known. Confederate valor never had n more splendid illustration. The nerve of Smith or Butler's large army was concen-trated on the hills behind heavy fortifications which they had strengthened with all the ap-pliar ces of unlimited labor and inexhaustible ing nuity. A world in arms would not have mov d Beauregard from such a place. The vas' army of Grant has been lately broken on some heavy breastworks, thrown np in a night by Le 3 troops with their bayonets and in cans. War songs fill a prominent niche among he cariosities of Literature. Many of them e coarse and rough, as if voiced by tha toreot's force or the tempest's roar, yet, withal, f possessed of the true epirit, they stir the heart and nerve the arm with an inspiration raly wonderful. MONDAY, MAY 30, 1864. THE CASE OF ARGUELLES .- In March last, our Vice-Conenl General at Havana addressed the following note to the Secretary of State at Washington:

Constlate General of the United States of Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State, Washington:
Sir—I have just returned from an interview had with the Uaptain-General, by his request, the object of which was to ascertain if the United States anthorities can return to this island the person of an officer of the Spanish samy named Don Jose Angustin Arguelles. ith these words: 'I acknowledge the conusion commends itself to my favor, beanse of the protection it is calculated to afford to personal liberty against executive anthority.' Thus far with the report, which will repay a perneal by any one Interested in the question. The history of the day, howerstary named Don Jose Angustin Arguelles, who is believed to be in New York. This officer was, in November last, the Lieutenant-Governor of the district of Colon, In this island, and effected the capture of the large er, gives a finale to the case. The French Minister was much offended with the result, and was somewhat clamerous in his protests expedition of African negrees, reported by me to the department on the 20th of November, last—dispatch No. 107. The government was highly pleased with his zeal, and paid him fifteen thousand dollars for hie share of the prize money usually alagainst it. So much so, that our Government crdered a writ of error to be brought, in order to take the case to the Supreme Conrt of the United States. At the ensuing session of Congress the subject was before the Senate, by lowed to captors of such expeditions. officer subsequently obtained a leave of ab-gence of twenty days, upon his representation that the object of his journey to New York was to purchase the Spanish journal there whom it was referred to the Judiciary Committee, on which were Daniel Webster, Robert J. Walker, and Dayton, our present Minister to France. The result of their examinaublished, called La Cronica. He has not re tion was that the decision was right; the writ turned, and since his departure it has be n discovered that he and other officers of the of error was abandoned, and Congress passed district of Colon retained and sold into slavery one hundred and forty-one negroes captured a law supplying the defect complained of, and providing for the action of the judiciary in such by them. Some of these negroes were sold at seven hundred dollars, and others at seven cases." And this is tho law prescribing the hundred and fifty dollars each. conrect of procedure indicated above. Thus Congress, under the lead of Danier excinsive jurisdiction over such causes, has taken cognizance of this case, and requires the presentation of Don Jose Augustin Arguellee before it to insure the prompt libera-tion of these one hundred and forty-one vic-tims. The Captain-General gave me to underwend that, without Arguelles's presence, it would be very difficult, and at all events it would to legalize the surrender. To sum up, there require a long time to attain that humand object. His excellency prenounced Arguelles long time to attain that hnmane fore, two things at least are required by pubto be a scoundrel worse than thief or high-wayman, inasmuch as he took advantage of his position as the local anthority to commit that ontrage with little risk to himself-I told the Captain-General, that, in the ab-

This note was followed up by a note from | Washington? Here it is: the Spanish Minister at Washington to the Si cretary of State, wherein the Minister says: The undersigned is well aware that no extradition treaty exists between the United States and Spain, in virtue of which the sur-render of Arguelles to the authorities of Cuba might be obtained Yet, considering the gross and scandnlous outrage which has been committed, al well se the interests of humanity at

The New York Evening Post has pubid. The opinion of the Judge concluded shed a summary of Gen. Butler's recent oprations, which it says is from an anthentic onrce, and it charges that "we lost hy an eror of Butler's several important advantages ot such a usture, that, in more skilful hands, hey might have gained ns decisive results." The substance of the principal charge thus brought forward, in a leading Republican ournal, against Gen. Butler is, that when he had gained a good position for effective work against Fort Darling and its appendages, he was earnestly advised by Gen. Gilmore to make his position occure, by latreachments, "against sorties or any movement of the enemy to oust as from them," but that Gon. Butler answered that, as his movement was altogether an offensive one, "he could not panse for defensive preparations." It is alleged that, in consequence of this nawisc decision, Gen. Butler was repulsed, and that to recover the ground he has thus lest will require "a large addition to hie present force." This indicates that the President's plan of setting the three Generals, Gilmore, Smith, and Weitzell, to watch Butler has failed, for the New York Republican paper has at last made the discovery that "the dnty of the Government in the conferring of mllitary commands is clear. It should intrust them to no man, be his popularity what it may, and however earnest may he too solicitations of his friends, unless it has the best reasons to believe him competent and able as an officar. The lives of our fellow-citizens must not be triffed with. At this critical period there is a special responsibility laid upon the Adminiatraticu to employ as our generals only those tion treaty with the state in question, and who have given certain evidence of adequate indicial determination under the treaty. Our military capacity."

Consulat Hayana was entirely correct in his The truth of the Post's strictness is so obview. Nor did the Spanish Minister at Washvious that it is singular it never before made iugton acquiesce unintelligently in the same the discovery. Perhaps, however, the Post's view. The view, as we have said, is und leasenmen is akin to that of the justice who deneed in the case of the good oxen.

EGYPTIAN DANGING DERVISHES.—Perhaps the strangest sight we saw in Egypt was the exhibition of the dancing decishes in their College at old Cairo. We entered an open plot of ground, and occupied some of the seats provided for strangere, close to one of the walls. A separate central wooden enclosure was reserved for the derwishes. There, under the chief priest, receiving each new comer orders, to purchase supplies and ship through the chief priest, receiving each new comer as he entered. The greatest homage was paid to him—each one, as he entered, bowing to the ground, and kissing the hand held out to him in the most formal and reverent fashion. Small cups of coffee, without milk or sugar, were handed to us, for, unlike the Mahomedans generally, the dervishes invite rather than repel christians from entering their mosques, and being present at their religious exercises. The number needful being at last complete, a movement to the mosque was made. The band of dervishes preceded, part was made. The band of dervishes preceded, prisoners were led forth, two young men of their cotton saie on their persons, brought back to this post, tried and condemned to be hung by a military commission. Beneath these, upon his prayer earpet, the high priest, as we shall call him, took up his position, supported by one or two dignitaries, as we presumed, of a higher than the common order. The others, about thirty in number, formed themselves into two rows on either side of him, running into a semicircle in his front. One or two of those who pisced themselves close to the high priest, on his right hand, held a pipe, a little drum, or a tamhorine in their hands. All sat at first upon the floor, and bowing first to their chief, and then from side to side to one another, began repeating, in a low monotonous tone, accenting each syllable, and keeping time with the bowing of their heads, "La-illab al-allah."

While this quiet preliminary part of the performance was going on, we had time to look at the performers. They were of all agos; all apparently of the lowest class, but obsciously from their complexion and features. all apparently of the lowest class, but obviously, from their complexion and features, of different nations, and, as the variety of dress would appear to indicate, of different orders and occupations. A few, however, stood distinguished by their exceedingly wild and uncoutb appearance. The hair, which had never apparently known the touch of knife or scissors, hung in long, uncombed, dishevelled locks over their shoulders, in some members of the Cabinet about retaliation of such cases as the Fort Pillow affair, and they oppose it upon humanitarian grounds.
